I told Mr. Plisbury less, and it was agreed that each pris/ner be called out separately and examined as to ticipation in the acts of outrage. I was caret my position should not be known to any , as that would necessarily defeat the object of visit. I must premise by sayling that it agreed that Mr. Pillsbury should be presenting the conversation with each one of the soners. I did this for a purpose, as, Mr. Pillsbury a strong democrat, and I wished him to be able to stiffy that no prejudice or party feeling influenced to in the course of my conversation with any of

One along which surprised me was that they had entered the order of the Ku Klux Klan Fithout any knowledge of its real purposes. Here you had constructed the order of the Ku Klux Klan Fithout any knowledge of its real purposes. Here you had constructed the order of the Ku Klux Klan Fithout any knowledge of its real purposes. Here you had been afterwards incited to have since escaped to parts unknown. Others had been accomplied to join from a fear of being made the victims of the Klan, and simply belonged to it to save themselves. Still others had been compelled to join from a fear of being made the victims of the Klan, and simply belonged to it to save themselves. Still others had claed it from a belief that it was a mutual protective society. When they once belonged to it they found it was a society, to use their own words, "for the extermination of the blacke" and the driving from the South of whites who were opposed to the Klan politically. This was the testimony of all of them, and was given voluntarily, for I did not let them infer who I was. The prisoners stated that the operations of the Ku Klux were widespread, and that many men who occupied high positions and in whom they had always had entire confidence were klentided with it, whom they did not suppose would be guilty of illegal acts. This was another reason why many had joined the society, and, very maturally, once being in it, the influence of those around kept them in it, and made them give their continued Colonel Whitley, "to ask avery one of the misoners what they

to oppose the radical party in all its forms and prevent the negroes from voting.' This great deception.it was that insiled so many of them, and they now express their hearty abhorrence of what they did. Their joining the Klan and carrying out its edicts (I speak of a certain number of them) may be imputed to their general want of intelligence and poverty.
There are sixty-four Ku Klux prisoners at present confined in the Albany Penitentiary. It was erromoous, as was stated in to-day's Heralap, to say that I had recommended eighteen for Executive elemency. The fact is, I at first recommended

"Would you go me the above of those you recommended to mercy?" asked the reporter.

"I hardy like to do that," said the Colonel, "for two reasons. In the first place I do not wish to do so until the President sees the names and acts upon them; and, in the second place, premature publication would raise the hopes of the friends of lapse recommended for pardon, and, in case they are refrased, would cause a vast deal of bitter feeling, which it is unnecessary at present to create. However, I can mention some. There are Collins, spoken of in to-day's despatch; William Teal and Andrew Owen. These three are old men, and I think that in the main they never actively participated in the Kn Knux outrages, and if they were present of the Knux outrages, and if they were present of the they were presented in the Kn Knux outrages, and if they were presented in the Kn Knux outrages, and if they were presented in the Kn Knux outrages, and if they were presented in the Kn Knux outrages, and if they were presented in the Kn Klux on a called of the case of the class I have spoken to you about—Inporant men, who hardly knew what they were called upon to do.

THE CASH OF SANUEL G. BROWN, of York, York county, whom Gerrit Smith recommended for pardon, I examined carefully. This man has a son who is other of the order, and a 1 tephew who is a grand chief—that is, commended for pardon, I examined carefully. Shotwell, who was commended. This man told me that he still stop the present the present the commended of the present the case—that of the fact, and the still stop the present the present the contrary, is proud of the fact, and the present with the present the contrary, is proud of the fact, because a state of the present with the pr

WHY THEY JOINED THE SOCKETY.

A number of them stated that they had been compelled a to join the order to save themselves and land lines from a visitation of the Khan. Others had cell from a visitation of the Khan. Others had cell from a visitation of the Khan. Others had cell from a visitation of the supposition that it was a society organized for mutual protection, but earned subsequently that its real designs were the extermination of the negro wase and the driving out of such of the whites as were in favor of the political equality and social elevation of the blacks. These severally expressed their contrition for their misdeeds, stated that the organization was one inimical to the best interests of society and that the government was fully justified in breaking it up. In further extenuation of having been members of the erder, they state that the operations of the Khan were widespread, embracing within its folds men of superior intelligence, to whom they had been secustomed to look for advice and counsel, and whom they did not suppose would lead them into any combination that contemplated personal vicience and murder if these were necessary for the accomplishment of its ends. They were told that it was a good institution—one to put down meanness in the country—and they accepted the statement implicitly. About forty examinations were made in the manner above indicated, neither prisoner knowing that any one but himself had been called out and none of them being aware, as before observed, of my official persistion or the object of my visit. There was a singular unanimity in these statements and a general expression of regret that they should have been drawn into an organization differing so entirely in the object which they supposed it had in view when they joined it.

WHAT THEY UNDERSTOOD ASOUT IT.

In reply to the general question, what were the objects of the organization? The answer was alm that misled us and which has brought us into our present condition."

The contrition manifested by many of these prisoners, the hearty abhorrence expressed by them for the acts into the commission of which they claim they were betrayed by unscrupulous and designing men of more enlightened minds, their general want of intelligence and their extreme poverty, all appeal strongly for mercy. My views as to the expediency of restoring any of them to society through the exercise of Executive clemency are clearly in favor of such a course with some portion of them, and I believe it may be done in some of the cases not only with great safety, but fully in the interest of the public good. In those to which I intend respectfully to call your attention the prisoners appear not only truly repentant, but absolutely ashamed of the course which they seem to have unwittingly pursued. They express themselves as anxious to return to the peaceful pursuits of industry whenever the opportunity is offered them, and to become law abiding citizens in their respective communities.

Mr. Whitley here appends a list of those whose pardon he recommends, with specifications of the pardon he recommends, with specifications of extenuating circumstances in their cases.

A DETECTIVE DETECTED.

Twenty-five Dollars for Finding a Man's Wife.

Detectives Heidelberg and Tilley, of the Central office, yesterday arrested Leopold Thompson, alias "Heyman," who has been representing himself as a detective of one of the uptown precincts. Some days since he proffered his services to Isaac Leavy, of Newark, N. J., to discover the whereabouts of his wife, who had eloped with another indi-vidual. This offer was made in writing, and the amount demanded for the performance of the service was $25. Before taking action in the matter Mr. Leavy called on Captain Irving, who Mr. Leavy called on Captain Irving, who at once detailed the above mentioned officers to work the case up. These gentlemen took $25 and marked it, and requested Mr. Leavy to appoint an interview with the artificial detective, and during which pay over to him the money and take his "information." The interview was arranged, and the officers were present and saw the money paid over, and also saw Mr. Thompson hand Leavy a letter which he represented as coming from the faithless wife. He was at once arrested, whereupou he acknowledged that the letter was written by himself and that he knew nothing of the whereabouts of Leavy's wife. The ingenious individual will have a hearing before Judge Hogan, at the Tombs Police Court, this morning on a charge of attempting to obtain money under false pretences.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

BALTIMORE, Md., August 13, 1872. A game of baseball was played here to-day be-tween the Eckford and Baltimore Baseball Clubs. The following is the score:—

WACE AND O'RALDWIN

The Champions of the Manly Art Arrested Baltimore-Both Men Placed Under Bonds Not to Descerate the Sacred Soil of "My Maryland."

BALTIMORE, Md., August 13, 1872.

This evening there seems every probability that the long talked of prize light between Jem Mace and Ned O'Baldwin, the "Irish Gient," for $2,000 and the championship of the herry weights of America, will take place on the day fixed, Thursday, rived yesterday morning and taken up his abode at John English's hostelrie, on Fayette street, while MAGE DEPEREND PUTTING EN AN APPEABANCE until this afternoon, arriving by the half-past nine o'clock A. M. train from New York, having left o'clock A. M. train from New York, having left his training quarters at the Highlands of Jersey on Monday afternoon, and remaining with an uptown acquaintance until his departure. Mace is stopping at Barnum's Hotel, and so soon as recognized in the barber shop of the establishment, which he visited for tonsorial purposes, a crowd gathered about the doors, and would not leave entil one of the Monumental blues, baton in hand, dispersed them.

The Publishs Arrested.

The authorities knew that the fighters are on hand, and were on the alert to arrest them, that the soil of My-Maryland should not be; olluted with such a brutal exhibition as was intended. Therefore this morning O'Baldwin was taken in custody and placed under bonds of $2,000 that he would not fight in the State. While Mace was in the act of jumping from the train this afternoon an officer placed his hands upon him, and he too was subjected to the same treatment.

THE FIGHTING GROUND will doubtless be in Virginia, or Traver's Island, Ship Neck, Coon Mill, near the mouth of the Potomao, the place where Edwards and Collyer fought their first battle. Boats will leave this city and from Washington for the appointed place.

O'Baldwin, with Tom Kelley, had a benefit at the Opera House this evening. The performance, besides the sparring, being diversined with the female minstrels and Jack Sheppard.

There is but little betting as yet on the result of the encounter, although one bet has been made at one hundred to eighty dollars in favor of O'Baldwila.

Mace is confident of winning.

Mace is confident of winning.

Mace is confident of winning.

The steamer Massachusetts, chartered by O'Baldwin's friends, and the Cyrus P. Smith, chartered by Mace's friends, leave here at five o'clock to-morrow afternoon for the battle ground.

A PITTSBURG FAILURE.

One of the Oldest and Largest Firm in the Oil Regions Suspended-Lia-bilities Reported of $1,000,000-Confidence of the Fisher Brothers.
Pirrssung, Pa., August 13, 1872.

The excitement has not allayed a whit in business circles here over the failure of the great oil firm, the Fisher Brothers, numbered among the most extensive producers and dealers in the oil trade. The house has been in existence almost est business at the beginning had spread to one of cnormous extent. The firm was composed of Messrs. Henry, John and Frederick Fisher, who commenced business together. Previous to this the boys were clerks in a dry goods store on Market street, of this city, at mere mederate salaries. Their energy, the confidence of several moneyed men, and being possessed of busi-ness tact and penetration, soon gained them a leading position in the trade, which was main-tained until yesterday. For the last six or seven years their trade has been simply enormous, and tained until yesterday. For the last six or seven years their trade has been simply enormous, and the firm was known wherever oil was sent—in Pittsburg, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Oil City, Parker's Landing, Titusville and Tideoute. They also engaged largely in boring for oil, and in the majority of their ventures seemed to be singularly successful. They now have wells at Parker's Landing and in the oil regions which produce $1,000 worth of oil daily.

They were looked upon in the trade as very bold operators, but shrewd, reliable and possessed of abundant means, which enabled them to pass through critical periods while others went under. The liabilities of the firm are not precisely known, but it is estimated they will be upwards of one million dollars. The cause of their suspension is attributed to being caught with an immensely large supply of oil on hand, and being overtaken by an unprecedented low market. Soon after the fact was known here the price of oil went down one cent per gallon, but subsequently railled.

Fred Fisher, while admitting their present insolvency, has asked for time to realize their property, and said that if allowed two years they could easily come out "square." Oil City papers, speaking of the failure, say the firm has probably been the most remarkable one in the history of the oil region. It organized in the infancy of the oil business with a small beginning, but with brain and will power that is sure to win. Through all the many financial changes that have marked the history of the oil region, they had long since been accorded the position of honor in its financial circles by foreign as well as the home trade. Their suspension is one of the remarkable epochs in the brief history of this busy region.

The attempted rescue of this negro flend by his brethren is but another result of the teachings of their white leaders in the present state of political excitement. The instructions of the negroes to resist the whites by force is apt to result in bloodshed before the Presidential campaign is over, and it would be no matter of surprise if a serious riot do take place. The following is a partial list of the victims:do take place.

In this, however, would only accomplish what the republican leaders in the South most ardently desire.

Notice to Mariners.

NORTH CARGURA-CROATAN SOUND-CHANGE OF ROANGER MARSHES LIGHT.

Notice is hereby given that on and after the lst of October, 1872, the Roanoke Marshes Light will do changed from fixed white to fixed red.

By order of the Lighthouse Board.

By OSEPH HERRY, Chairman Lighthouse Board.

Washington, DC, Aug 2, 1872.

Washington, DC, Aug 2, 1872.

As it is now a matter of certainty that some persons have established themselves near the Koll Point, at the morthern entrance to the Sound, and board vessels arriveng from the northward, to offer their services as pilots through the narrows called the Grounds, or Drogden, masters of vessels are warned that the narrows in questions of the services as pilots through the narrows called the Grounds, or Drogden, masters of vessels are warned that the narrows in questions of the services as pilots through the narrows called the first part of the services as pilots through the narrows of the services are proper document of appointment from the Danish Pilot Office are authorized to pilot ships in such waters.

One vessel, which was in charge of one of these so-called pilots, has been run on shore, and as these men have only been accustomed to the smaller class of shipping as skippers or mates, they are not competent to handle large square-rigged vessels; and as they must use caution, which the regular Ground pilots need not do, when the wind is scant or contrary, valuable time may be lost to shipping intrusted to their charge.

By order of the Bureau of Navigation.
